

Microbial Diversity & Metagenomics:

science, technology, applications
& regulatory affairs

21 - 24 June | 2008
Porto Carras Resort
Chalkidiki | Greece

The field of metagenomics addresses the exploration of microbial diversity at the molecular level.

This EMBO Workshop will bring together scientists from different fields working on metagenomics, in order to discuss both the recent scientific and technological achievements in the field as well as aspects of policy on the recording and protection of microbial natural wealth and its proper exploitation for applications.
